ARTICLE 10.- BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The management, administration and representation of the Company in or out of court, and in all acts included in the corporate purpose, corresponds to the Board of Directors, which shall act as a body, without prejudice to the delegations and powers of attorney that may be conferred, and will be authorized to adopt resolutions on all kinds of matters that are not attributed by Law or the Company Bylaws to the General Shareholders' Meeting.

The Board of Directors shall consist of a minimum of five (5) and a maximum of twelve (12) members.

The directors shall hold office for a term of four (4) years, and may be re-elected indefinitely for terms of the same duration.

The Board of Directors, under the terms provided by Law, these Bylaws and the Regulations of the Board of Directors, shall meet as often as necessary to effectively perform its duties and at least eight (8) times a year (a meeting must be held at least once a quarter) and, at the request of the Chair or the coordinating director -if any-, as many times as they deem appropriate for the proper functioning of the Company.

Likewise, the directors constituting at least one-third of the members of the Board of Directors may call a meeting of the Board of Directors, indicating the agenda, to be held in the locality where the registered office is located if, upon requesting the Chair, the Chair has not called the meeting within a period of one month without just cause.

The Board of Directors shall be deemed to be validly constituted without the need to call a meeting if all its members, either present or represented, unanimously agree to hold the meeting.

The Board shall deliberate on the items contained in the agenda, and resolutions shall be adopted by an absolute majority of those present or represented at the meeting in question, unless the Law or these Bylaws establish a different majority.

When, exceptionally, for reasons of urgency, the Chair wishes to submit decisions or resolutions not appearing on the agenda for the approval of the Board of Directors, the prior express consent of directors representing at least four-fifths of the members of the Board of Directors shall be required, which shall be duly recorded in the minutes.

The Board of Directors may be held in several places connected to each other by systems that allow the recognition and identification of the attendees, permanent communication among the attendees regardless of the place where they are, as well as participation and casting of votes, all in real time (including videoconference or telepresence systems or any other similar systems) and provided that none of them oppose this procedure. The directors attending any of the interconnected locations shall be deemed to be attending the same meeting of the Board of Directors. The meeting shall be deemed to be held at the registered office of the Company.

ARTICLE 11.- REMUNERATION OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The position of member of the Board of Directors is remunerated. Board members shall be entitled to receive the remuneration established by the General Shareholders' Meeting.

The maximum amount of remuneration that may be paid by the Company to all directors shall not exceed the amount determined for such purpose by the General Shareholders' Meeting, in accordance with the provisions of the Capital Companies Act, these Bylaws, the Regulations of the General Shareholders' Meeting and the Regulations of the Board of Directors. This maximum amount shall remain in force until the General Shareholders' Meeting approves its modification.

The remuneration of the directors in their capacity as such shall consist of a fixed amount, which shall be determined annually on an individual basis by the General Shareholders' Meeting of the Company for the fiscal year in which it is adopted (the "Fixed Remuneration") and which shall remain in force until its modification is approved. Said Fixed Remuneration shall be composed of: (i) a fixed allowance for the mere performance of the duties of the position; (ii) a fixed allowance for membership, if any, of the existing Committees; (iii) a fixed allowance for holding office (Chair and/or Vice-Chair) on the Board of Directors and Committees, and the remuneration established in sections (ii) and (iii) may not be cumulative, and, if applicable, only the higher of the two may be received; and (iv), if applicable, the severance payments agreed upon with the directors.

In addition, regardless of the remuneration provided for above, the members of the Board of Directors shall be entitled to: (i) the per diems agreed by the General Shareholders' Meeting for attendance to the meetings of the Board of Directors and its Committees, such amount being in force until the General Shareholders' Meeting does not agree to modify it and (ii) the reimbursement of any reasonable expenses duly justified that are directly related to the performance of their position as a director of the Company.

Until the General Meeting has fixed the Fixed Remuneration applicable to a given fiscal year, the Fixed Remuneration approved for the previous fiscal year will be provisionally received, adjusted upwards or downwards, as the case may be, as from the month of January of each fiscal year and in accordance with the Consumer Price Index published by the National Institute of Statistics or the body replacing it; the remuneration thus received shall be adjusted, upwards or downwards, within the first ten (10) days of the calendar month following that in which the Fixed Remuneration for the fiscal year in question was approved by the General Shareholders' Meeting.

The Fixed Remuneration shall be understood to be established for the twelve (12) month fiscal year in which the resolution is adopted by the General Shareholders' Meeting and, consequently, if a fiscal year has a duration of less than twelve (12) months, the amount of such remuneration shall be reduced proportionally.

When a member of the Board of Directors is appointed Chief Executive Officer or is attributed executive duties by virtue of another title, a contract must be entered into between him/her and the Company, which must be previously approved by the Board of Directors with the favorable vote of four-fifths of its members. The affected director must abstain from attending the deliberation and from participating in the vote.

Directors who have been attributed senior management or other executive duties, other than those of supervision and decision making that they perform as members of the Board, shall be entitled to receive additional compensation consisting of: (i) a fixed allowance, in line with the services and responsibilities assumed; (ii) a contingent variable part, which may not be consolidated and is linked to the attainment of the Company's objectives and the individual performance of each director; (iii) remuneration in kind; (iv) an assistance part that may include appropriate pension and insurance schemes; and (v), if applicable, an agreed severance payment, provided that the termination was not caused by the failure to perform the duties of executive director.

The approved contract shall be attached as an annex to the minutes of the meeting. The contract shall detail all the items for which remuneration may be obtained for the performance of executive duties, including, as the case may be, any compensation for early termination of such duties and the amounts to be paid by the Company as insurance premiums or contributions to savings systems. The director may not receive any remuneration for the performance of executive duties whose amounts or concepts are not provided for in this contract. The contract must be in accordance with the remuneration policy approved by the General Shareholders' Meeting.

Likewise, the directors may be remunerated through the delivery of shares or stock options, or through remuneration systems linked to the value of the shares, provided that this remuneration is previously approved by the General Shareholders' Meeting. The resolution must include the maximum number of shares that may be assigned in each year to this remuneration system, the exercise price or the system for calculating the exercise price of the stock options, the value of the shares that, if applicable, is taken as a reference, the term of the plan, and any other conditions deemed appropriate.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Company shall have a civil liability insurance policy for its directors and executives under the usual market conditions, which may be updated and adapted on occasion by the Board of Directors to the needs and circumstances of the Company, the directors and the executives to whom it provides coverage.

The Board of Directors and the Appointments and Remuneration Committee shall adopt all measures within their power to ensure that the remuneration of directors is sufficient to attract and retain directors with the desired profile and to reward the dedication, qualifications and responsibility that the position requires, but not so high as to compromise the independence of judgment of the non-executive directors.

The remuneration of the directors shall in any case be in reasonable proportion to the importance of the Company, its economic situation at any given time and the market standards of comparable companies. The remuneration system established shall be aimed at promoting the long-term profitability and sustainability of the Company and shall incorporate the necessary precautions to avoid the excessive assumption of risks and the rewarding of unfavorable results.

ARTICLE 12.- DELEGATION OF POWERS AND COMMITTEES OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The permanent delegation of any of the powers of the Board of Directors to the Executive Committee or to the Chief Executive Officer and the appointment of the directors to occupy such positions shall require for their validity the favorable vote of four-fifths of the members of the Board of Directors and shall not be effective until they are recorded in the Mercantile Registry. If the result of the calculation of four-fifths of the members of the Board of Directors results in non-whole number, this amount must be rounded up or down to the nearest whole number. If the decimal place is exactly x.5, the figure shall be rounded up.

The Board of Directors may set up specialized committees, determining their composition, appointing their members and establishing the functions assumed by each of them.

However, the Board of Directors shall set up at least one Audit and Compliance Committee and one or two separate Appointments and Remuneration Committees, each of which shall be composed of a minimum of three (3) and a maximum of five (5) Board Members, who must meet the conditions established in the Capital Companies Act. The Audit and Compliance Committee and the Appointments and Remuneration Committee shall have the powers provided for in the applicable legislation and those entrusted to them by the Board of Directors in general or in particular.

ARTICLE 13.- FISCAL YEAR

The fiscal year shall begin on January 1 of each year and end on December 31 of the same year.

ARTICLE 14.- FINAL PROVISIONS

The shareholders are subject to the jurisdiction of the courts of the Company's domicile for all corporate matters related to the Company, expressly waiving their own jurisdiction, except as provided for the challenge of corporate resolutions by the Capital Companies Act.

Any doubt or question regarding the effectiveness, understanding, interpretation or compliance with these Bylaws, either during the subsistence of this Company, or between the former and current members of the Board of Directors, administrators, managers, attorneys-in-fact and liquidators, insofar as they refer to corporate matters, provided that they cannot be resolved by statutory action of the Company's representative and administrative bodies, shall be resolved by the rules of arbitration; with the exception of those arising from the resolutions of the corporate bodies which must be processed and resolved in accordance with the provisions of the Capital Companies Act. Under no circumstances shall the arbitration procedure be applicable to resolve ties in voting by corporate bodies.
